Anger over OAP's care costs ruling

■ NIGHTMARE . . . Glyn Northrop says his mother-in-law Daphne Humphrey, inset, needs continuous care.

RELATIVES of an 89-year-old woman with dementia are battling against health officials who say she no longer qualifies for free continuing healthcare and must pay to stay in the nursing home where she lives.

Daphne Humphrey contracted the C-difficile bug at West Suffolk Hospital last May. After she returned home to her bungalow in Haverhill her daughter and son-in-law, Carole and Glyn Northrop, found it very difficult to care for her, as she is incontinent and unable to even change her position in her seat unaided.

Mrs Humphrey went into Catchpole Court at Sudbury for respite care, then moved in permanently and was assessed as needing continuous care in May. Since then, she has suffered from a serious chest infection from which doctors did not expect her to recover.

Mr Northrop and his wife, of Withersfield Road, Haverhill, were horrified when Mrs Humphrey was reassessed in September and found to be no longer eligible for continuous care.

The Northrops' MP Richard Spring has taken up their case and has written to Graham Gatehouse, at Suffolk County Council, asking for further advice and assistance with Mrs Humphrey's care.

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Mr Spring said: "I am dismayed that, despite Mrs Humphrey's obvious need for care, Suffolk PCT do not feel that she merits continuing care."

Mr Northrop said: "She is a sick woman and I believe what they are doing is illegal in denying her continuous care when she needs it.

"She cannot walk, she has to be hoisted into a chair, where she just slouches because she cannot support herself and she has to be repositioned every three hours.

"When we looked after her we had to change her seven times a day. She used to call out constantly for my wife and we have been told she still does. She has to take anti-psychotic drugs to calm her down. It seems like we are up against a brick wall and no-one will listen to us.

"We want a face-to-face meeting with them so that they can tell us why they think she does not qualify. It is just a nightmare for us. We moved to Haverhill from Linton so that she could live with us, but we did not know she was going to get dementia and not be able to stay at home. She has worked all her life since 1947 and I don't think she should have to sell her bungalow to pay for her care."

A spokesman for NHS Suffolk said: "All continuing care assessments carried out by NHS Suffolk are undertaken by health and social care professionals, with input from families if they so wish.

Recall loved ones at service

A HOSPICE is getting ready for Christmas by gearing up for its annual programme of "Light up a Life" remembrance services.

The events are held in towns throughout West Suffolk and the Haverhill service will take place next Tuesday in the market square. A candlelit walk will leave the town hall at 6.15pm. The service starts at 6:30pm and includes Christmas carols, hymns and prayer. It is free to attend, though guests can make a donation to St Nicholas Hospice Care if they choose.

Light up a Life aims to give local people the opportunity to remember loved ones who have passed away, and to dedicate a light to them under the Christmas tree.

The services provide a poignant focus at this festive time of year, with names of people to be remembered being read aloud.

Chaplain for St Nicholas Hospice Care, Charles Amoah, said: "Christmas and the turn of the year can be particularly emotional times for those who have lost loved ones. Light up a Life is a very simple way to help celebrate the values and virtues of those we have lost. It can help to keep the memories of our loved ones alive."

The Light up a Life remembrance services are open to the whole community. A loved one need not have passed away at the hospice to have their name read out. Anyone who would like a family member or friend to be remembered in this way should contact Alison Ring at St Nicholas Hospice Care on (01284) 715573.

Leaflets about the services are available by calling the same number, or can be downloaded from www.stnicholashospice.org.uk

Trail of trees lead to cash for appeal

SPARKLING evergreens will be on show at Haverhill's first ever Christmas Tree Festival this weekend, which will help boost our St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal.

West End Congregational Church in Withersfield Road, Haverhill, has already donated £300 to our £40,000 appeal – which last week hit the £30,000 mark – and has promised to give more from the proceeds of the festival, which runs until Sunday.

Money raised for the appeal will be used to fund in-home hospice services for patients in and around Haverhill, saving them the 40-mile round trip to the hospice itself in Bury St Edmunds.

The Rev Leslie Shorten said: "This is a first for West End and it may also be a first for Haverhill.

"We plan to have a route through the premises packed with real Christmas trees leading from the church into the front passageway and on into the hall where there will be a refreshments area.

"On the way through the trees there will be three tableaus, each depicting part of the Bible story – first the three wise men following the star on their journey to find the one 'born to be King', secondly the stable scene where the Lord Jesus was born and finally the carpenters workshop, depicting part of Jesus's early childhood.

How can you help?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fund- raising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal.

Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible.

If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause.

A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank. Cash or cheques can paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842.

"Schools, community organisations, local businesses and other churches have been invited to sponsor a tree so that we can make this a real community event."

Donations from the proceeds of the festival, as well as a concert by the Amici Singers last weekend, will also be made to two other charities that West End Church is supporting this Christmas – the new Haverhill Foodbank and the Children's Society.

Opening times for the festival are: 11am to 8pm on Friday, 10am to 5pm on Saturday and 2pm to 4pm on Sunday. Admission is adults £2, children 50p.

■ Copies of our Hospice at Home calendar are selling fast, with several already posted and winging their way to other corners of the globe.

Stunning local scenes by photographer George Impey have been provided free of charge and local companies have sponsored each page so that every penny raised goes into the appeal.

The calendar costs £6.95 and copies can be bought at the Weekly News office in Queen Street, the hospice shop in the High Street, Specialized Print in Station Road, and Haverhill Arts Centre. Suffolk Insurance, on the High Street, will be holding a special calendar selling drive during Friday's late-night shopping event.

■ Collection boxes have been rattling inside and outside Haverhill's Co-op store for our Hospice at Home appeal. Collection jars by the tills have been regularly filled and emptied for several weeks. On Saturday, hospice supporters – including councillors Tim and Margaret Marks – held a collection outside and raised £276.

■ The Mount Pleasant Club, in Withersfield Road, Haverhill, is holding a table top sale from 10am to noon on Sunday in aid of the appeal. The £6 cost of a table will go straight to the appeal. The club committee will be setting up a table, with all funds raised also going to the appeal. To book a table contact Julie on (01440) 708673 or the Mount Pleasant Club on (01440) 703422.

No rise in Council Tax – call

A COUNCIL TAX freeze for the next year has been proposed by a council leader who is urging other Suffolk councils to do the same.

Cllr John Griffiths, leader of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, has asked fellow councillors and officers at St Edmundsbury to do all they can to secure the freeze without compromising any of its services.

Cllr Griffiths said: "We want to help hard-pressed Council Tax payers in these very difficult times, and believe that the simplest and most effective way we can reach the maximum number of residents is to ensure that every household in the borough pays no more than they did a year ago.

"We don't believe in gimmicks or lengthy discussions – this is firm and immediate action.

"Although St Edmundsbury too faces financial challenges, I am asking councillors across all parties to support this move. Furthermore I hope that other Suffolk councils, particularly the county council will now follow our lead.

"St Edmundsbury has managed its finances carefully in easier times, which is why we are in a position to help our residents now."

Touch of the exotic at demonstration

EXOTIC blooms were used to create some colourful festive displays at Haverhill Flower Club's annual Christmas demonstration.

Cllr Les Ager, Haverhill's mayor, and Cllr Bob Cockle, mayor of St Edmundsbury, joined an audience of more than 100, including members, guests and visitors from other flower clubs to watch the nimble fingers of national demonstrator Pat Dibbon. Her displays were raffled off at the end of the evening.

The thriving club, which celebrated its 45th anniversary this year, has more than 60 members and meets at Haverhill Arts Centre on the first Monday of the month. Members travel far and wide for competitions and in 2007 the club took part, for the first time, in the floral art competition at the Chelsea Flower Show and was awarded a bronze medal by the Royal Horticultural Society.

"The assessments are then submitted to a panel of clinicians who look at the health needs of the individual patient and apply these to the eligibility criteria set down by the Government.

"If the patient meets this criteria, a package of care is put in place according to their needs.

"Where an assessment is challenged, the panel's decision is reviewed by a second panel with a different membership, which is happening in this case."

Plans for temporary health clinic approved

A TEMPORARY new health clinic in a Haverhill car park has been given the go-ahead – despite a petition from residents and businesses and strong objections from councillors.

It was approved by members of St Edmundsbury Borough Council's development control committee this week.

The plan could cost up to £740,000 over a three-year period while a site is found for a permanent walk-in health care centre, which would be the first in Suffolk and open 8am to 8pm, seven days a week.

Plans for the health centre, part single, part two-storey, in the Rose and Crown car park off Withersfield Road, has provoked a storm of protest.

A petition against the plan, signed by 55 people, was handed in at the meeting, along with letters of objection from the nearby Chiropractic Clinic in Rose Cottages, the dental surgery, several businesses and other residents.

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Haverhill Town Council also objected strongly to the plan on the grounds of loss of parking space, particularly long stay, that 16 spaces proposed for local businesses were not enough, potential noise and light disturbance to local residents and drainage concerns.

It was also believed that the access road leading from Withersfield Road was too narrow and dangerous to be used by more vehicles as well as ambulances, with no footpath available for pedestrians.

The chiropractic clinic and other medical service providers were concerned that around 300 patients, including the elderly, they have on their books would find it difficult to park and get access to their premises.

The report to councillors said that the introduction of parking charges was being considered to avoid people using the car park for long periods, and that other car parks were available nearby.

It said: "Whilst the temporary loss of the parking is regrettable, it is considered that the needs for improved health facilities within the town are sufficient to outweigh the temporary loss of parking spaces. There are four other car parks in Haverhill with a total of 731 spaces.

"However, the borough council, as land owners, recognises the impact the loss of the parking will have on businesses and residents of 1-4 Rose Cottages and 3-5 Withersfield Road and has been working on a solution for these residents.

> "This temporary building is about spending £800,000 or they are going to lose it . . but it is going to cause so much disruption and elderly and disabled people will suffer."
> Diana Garrod

"The number of spaces provided for them will be increased from four to eight, controlled by lockable bollards to which each property will have a key."

Cllr Tim Marks failed in a bid to approve the temporary site for three years instead of four.

He said: "This enhancement to healthcare facilities in Haverhill is welcome, particularly as the PCT has made a £300,000 reduction to the budget of local GPs. However, the location of this facility, albeit temporary, is in the wrong place."

Diana Garrod, who runs a chiropractic clinic in Rose Cottages, which has the only X-ray facilities in Haverhill, said she was disappointed by the decision.

She said: "We already have three excellent surgeries in Haverhill and this facility is not needed. This temporary building is about spending £800,000 or they are going to lose it. It is just a stepping stone, but it is going to cause so much disruption and both elderly and disabled people will suffer."

Chris Rand, planning officer for St Edmundsbury, said the Highway Authority had not objected to the plan and other sites had been considered but were not available.

Beer stolen

The theft happened at Haycocks Road, at around 4.25pm on Tuesday.

Panels taken

The theft happened in Camps Road between 6pm on Tuesday, November 25, and 8am the next morning.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

Homes plan

PLANS to build five two-storey homes, plus a garage and parking areas, on land to the rear of 17-35 Wratting Road, Haverhill, have been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

Students get down to business

THE unlikely activity of baking cakes and selling them to hungry Cubs and Beaver Scouts helped a group of teenage boys come out on top of an enterprise challenge and raise more than £80 for charity at the same time.

Tom Eames, Dan Wilson, Andrew Watts and William Betts, all aged 13, handed over the cash to Ian Norris, fundraiser for St Nicholas Hospice, at their morning assembly at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in Haverhill.

The four chose the charity because Tom's father died at the hospice in 2000 and had received very good care there. Tom also benefited from the Nicky's Way scheme, which helps children coping with bereavement.

Tom said: "I was only five at the time so I don't remember too much, but my mum says my dad was brilliantly looked after there.

"We did go in to see him, but they also sent someone to look after me and my brother Ben while mum went to be with dad."

The four Year 9 students were challenged to set up a business and organise an event to raise money for charity, and decided to organise two events rather than just one. They took part in a sponsored run which raised £170, then used half of the money to buy ingredients and bake about 160 cakes which were sold at Kedington Community Centre to Beavers and Cubs who meet there.

Ian Norris said: "We are very grateful and I think it was a fantastic way to raise the money, because they also learned a lot about working together as a team and running a business while they were doing it."

Martin Pates, an enterprise teacher at Castle Manor, said: "We had a lot of students who rose to the challenge successfully but they did particularly well for students of their age by organising two events, communicating well together and raising money for a good cause."

Family fun at great big weekend

A GREAT BIG Christmas weekend of fun awaits residents of Haverhill this weekend – starting with the traditional family late-night shopping event this Friday.

This year's event is spread over three days instead of just one, with the traditional charity stalls, street entertainment, fairground rides and late opening for shops in the town centre from 5.30pm-8.30pm on Friday.

The Weekly News office in Queen Street will be open, with children able to meet Santa and have their picture taken with him, with proceeds in aid of our Hospice at Home Appeal. Copies of the Haverhill at Home calendar being sold for the appeal will be available for £6.95, as well as at Suffolk Insurance, the Haverhill Arts Centre and the hospice shop.

The Christmas lights switch-on will also be on Friday, starting from the arts centre at 6pm, and there will be a Christmas Craft Fair at the arts centre, open on Friday night and Saturday from 10am to 4pm.

The grand free firework display moves to Saturday night this year on the Recreation Ground, in Camps Road, and starting at the earlier time of 6.30pm.

There will also be a Continental and Gourmet Market in the town centre on Sunday from 11am to 5pm, with 30 stalls selling sausages, cheese and mulled wine, plus street entertainment and children's rides.

Haverhill Town Council arts and leisure manager Nick Keeble said: "While family Christmas night has been highly successful over the years, there have been suggestions regarding extending and changing the event. We are making some alterations to see how it goes."

Seven face trial on drug charges

SEVEN people arrested after a series of police raids across three counties earlier this year have denied serious drug offences and are due to stand trial next June.

A woman and three men from Haverhill, two from Cambridgeshire and one from London, appeared at Ipswich Crown Court to deny offences they were charged with after being arrested in raids in Cambridgeshire, Suffolk and North London in July.

Emma Limpus, 30, of Cleves Road, Haverhill; Matthew Dixon, 38, of Elmhurst Close, Haverhill; Paul French, 31, of Gannet Close, Haverhill; and Paul Massie, 47, of Haverhill Road, Haverhill; all pleaded not guilty to conspiracy with others to supply a Class A drug.

The offence was alleged to have been committed between October 29, 2007, and July 9 this year and involved cocaine.

Three other people, Ryan Eggo, 21, of Church Close Whittlesford; Sean Kimber, 31, of Lime Kiln Close, Peterborough; and Sam Gilmour, 33, of Muswell Hill, London; also pleaded not guilty to the same charge.

Limpus pleaded guilty to a second charge of conspiracy with others to supply a Class B drug, amphetamine, between January 1 and July 9 this year, and French pleaded not guilty to the same offence.

Judge John Devaux told them that their trial was expected to begin on June 8 next year.

Christopher Morgan, appearing on behalf of the Crown Prosecution Service, said it was estimated the trial would take between four and six weeks to complete.

Limpus had her bail renewed but the other six defendants were told they would continue to be remanded in custody.

Benefit changes 'insulting'

A WOMAN who has suffered from the painful condition fibromyalgia for the past eight years is furious about changes to the benefit system, which she says have left her just 47p a week better off.

Christina Ratcliffe, 46, did work at one time, but had to give up because of her illness, which makes it very difficult for her to stand for any length of time or lift anything.

She used to be on income support, but for the past six months has been on incapacity benefit, which gave her an extra £3 a week. Although her payments have now gone up by almost £12 a week, she now has to pay Council Tax and rent, which she says leaves her very little better off.

She said: "I cannot afford to pay another £9.68 a week for Council Tax just because I have gone from income support to incapacity benefit. It does not make any sense at all. "What is the point of giving you extra money and then taking it away. To send the letter to tell me about it probably cost 47p. It is an insult to give someone an extra 47p. "I went to the Job Centre to see if I could go back on to income support, but they said they could not help me. Every time you have to speak to someone else."

She added: "Fibromyalgia is like arthritis, but affects the muscles. I get really tired very easily. I did have a job at Addenbrooke's Hospital but after five hours with just a 15-minute break I could hardly walk to the bus stop. It is not my fault I have got this illness, but I feel like I am being punished for it. I would love to work if I could."

Council sets priorities for tight budget

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

SUFFOLK County councillors have warned that financial pressures on their budget will continue over the next year, but insist the most vulnerable members of society will be a priority.

The reassurance comes after the council learned that it will receive £162 million from the Government's grant for 2009/10. This represents a cash increase of 4.9 per cent compared with 2008/9. The increase for 2010/11 is expected to be 4.4 per cent.

Cllr Jane Storey, the council's portfolio holder for resource management and transformation, said: "The settlement is in line with what we expected. However, it still means we face some challenging decisions on how we use our budget.

"Our priorities continue to be the most vulnerable in the community – older people and looked after children. In our budget proposals for 2009/10, we believe we will rise to the challenge of caring for our community, and at the same time provide quality and value for money services for everyone in the county.

"We have planned for more efficient ways of working to provide the care and services that the people of Suffolk expect.

"During this period of unprecedented economic uncertainty, the demand for our services and inflation are both rising. However, we are determined to do what we were elected to do – to run the council as efficiently as possible.

"We will shortly be consulting on our budget proposals, a measure we introduced to make the whole process as open and transparent as possible. As in previous years, we will seek people's views and be ready to make adjustments to the proposals if we receive persuasive ideas and alternatives."

The proposals will be discussed by the resources, finance and performance scrutiny committee on December 16. Cabinet will then consider the budget recommendations at its meeting on February 5 and report to the full council on February 19, when the level of Council Tax will be set.

The council's Labour group has demanded that next year's tax rise be set "at a very low level" and that the most vulnerable – the elderly and low income families – be protected.

Cllr Kevan Lim, deputy leader of the Labour group, said: "The current Conservative administration are proposing another year of cuts to spending on the most vulnerable, some £7 million to add to the £7 million they cut this year.

"We have no confidence in the Conservative administration managing the county's affairs properly."

The Gross rate is the contractual rate of interest payable before deduction of income tax at the rate specified by law (currently 20%).

The Net rate is the rate paid after income tax has been deducted (currently 20%).

The Annual Equivalent Rate (AER) is a notional rate which illustrates what the gross interest rate would be if interest was paid and added to the account annually. AERs on an account which pays monthly interest assumes interest is added to the account at the end of each month during the year. In practice, the option to have interest added in this way is not available on our Hallmark or 90 Day Notice monthly interest options.

The Tax-free rate is the contractual rate of interest payable where interest is exempt from income tax.

All the above rates are variable. Cash Individual Savings Accounts (ISAs), and Cash Child Trust Fund accounts, pay interest tax-free provided all terms and conditions of the account types are met. On all other accounts, interest will be paid at the net rate after the appropriate rate of income tax (currently 20%) has been deducted, or gross on receipt of the required declaration form. Where interest is paid net, the income tax may be reclaimed if the amount deducted exceeds the investor's tax liability. Higher rate taxpayers will have to pay the extra due (the difference between tax deducted at 20% and the higher rate of 40%). Tax assumptions are based on current legislation which may change in the future. Net rates are illustrative only and have been rounded to two decimal places. Full terms and conditions are available from all our branches. Cambridge Building Society complies with The Banking Code.

NOTICE TO EXISTING BORROWERS

With effect from 4th December 2008, the rate of interest for mortgages will decrease by 1.30% per annum until further notice. The revised Variable Home Loan Rate (equivalent to Standard Variable Rate) will be 4.99% p.a. The revised Commercial Base Rate, for non owner-occupied residential loans, will be 6.29% p.a. Under the annual review system, this change of interest will be reflected in the revised monthly payments effective from March 2009.

This notice does not apply to any mortgage account operated by interim review. Those borrowers will be notified separately.

High praise for school which is 'going places'

A SMALL village primary school is "going places", according to an Ofsted inspector.

Ridgewell Primary School, which has just 78 pupils, was inspected last month and it was reported to them that: "All of you are now making good progress because of skilled teaching. I was impressed with your behaviour and the kindness you showed to each other.

"All the staff clearly want the school to go places, and with your continued help I am sure it will."

Headteacher Andy Richbell said: "We have worked very hard since our last inspection to give the children the education they deserve and wanted to show Ofsted what our school has achieved.

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"We have emerged from a difficult period and this report reflects our achievements. With the work that is being done we expect standards to carry on improving. Our children enjoy school and we are very proud of them."

Chair of governors, Sarah Howard, said: "The whole school – pupils, parents, staff and governors – have contributed to our success and it is good to have this reflected in a positive and accurate Ofsted report."

The report said improvement since the last inspection has been good and the headteacher led the school well. Adults knew all the pupils extremely well and this forms the basis of positive and nurturing relationships.

The recently opened nursery setting was also recognised. The inspector said that "children are warmly welcomed and are clearly at ease with the resources and each other".

Sandra Coleman, nursery manager, said: "The nursery was set up in response to a need in the community, servicing children from the villages and also from further afield, giving them an excellent start to their education."

Home from Home Childcare due in Burton End

ADVERTISING FEATURE

A NEW children's nursery in Haverhill is preparing to open in January.

Husband and wife team Lucy and Lewis Huelin currently run Home from Home Childcare in Withersfield and have decided to expand.

The second branch of the nursery will be conveniently based in the centre of Haverhill in a beautiful, secluded location off Burton End. The setting, in a character, barn style, well equipped building, offers plenty of space for children to play and learn with the added benefit of a large garden area allowing a strong emphasis on outdoor activities.

Like the setting in Withersfield the new Haverhill nursery will cater primarily for children aged three months to school age but will also have a limited availability pre and after-school club. Both branches are Ofsted registered and the key care staff are well experienced and qualified.

■ NEW NURSERY IN HAVERHILL . . . Home from Home owners Lucy and Lewis Huelin outside the new facility which has lots of space for play.

■ HOME FROM HOME . . . Withersfield provides a safe environment.

Just like the Withersfield branch, at Haverhill children will enjoy the happy atmosphere created by the friendly, dedicated staff and will have every opportunity to flourish in the fun but safe environment. Both centres are open until 6pm and operate throughout the year including holiday periods. There are breakfast, lunch and tea clubs with hot food prepared on the premises.

The new Haverhill branch will also have an allocation of Government funded places available for three-four-year-olds.

For more information about either of these childcare settings please call Home from Home Childcare on (01440) 709254 or (01440) 783208.

Open doors an invite for burglars – police

CHRISTMAS presents have already been snatched by opportunist thieves in Haverhill and police are now warning people to keep gifts out of sight and secure their property.

Pc Will Wright, of Haverhill police, said two more homes had been burgled in the town this week, continuing a spate in recent weeks. They were particularly concerned about the number of "walk-in" thefts, where intruders had simply been able to enter houses through unlocked doors.

He urged people to keep their doors locked, even when they are at home, and to avoid putting presents under the Christmas tree too early.

Pc Wright said: "People normally put their Christmas trees right in front of the window and opportunist thieves know there will be presents underneath.

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"We also ask people not to leave tools out in their garden which could be used to prise windows open and force entry into the house. We don't want to alarm people, just to make them aware of simple precautions that can avoid the heartache of having their Christmas presents or precious jewellery stolen."

He added: "Another one of our biggest problems is with recycling. People leave empty boxes from items they have bought next to their bins. If a thief sees a 52-inch plasma television box outside your house, they know there is going to be a new 52-inch television inside. Burglars do look at people's rubbish.

"We are reminding people not to be complacent and to keep valuables secure and out of sight. It is the time of year when everyone is busy and people tend to leave a door unlocked or forget to remove valuables from their car."

Pc Wright is offering to photograph people's valuables, particularly jewellery, which can circulate to local jewellers so they know exactly what to look out for.

EMPLOYERS in Haverhill are being asked their views on how schools and colleges can develop services that best serve them.

The survey, the first of its kind in Suffolk, is seeking the views of local industries which will be used to develop services that are more effective in meeting the aims of organisations.

Co-ordinated by the Suffolk Education Business Partnership, a questionnaire was mailed out to more than 3,000 businesses.

Helen Scott-Davies, chief executive of the partnership, said: "Historically, there has been a lot of confusion and repetition about the way that schools and colleges work with businesses.

"This survey will address the issues and, as a result, we will be able to put together a future strategy that will enable a 'joined up thinking' approach."

The results will be presented as part of a strategy consultation event on December 11 at Adastral Park, Martlesham.

The survey can also be completed on-line by visiting www.suffolkebp.co.uk

‘Tired’ ambulance crews facing more funding cuts

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

AMBULANCE crews are run ragged and staff worn out according to union bosses, yet more cash cuts will have to be made to the county’s life-saving service.

The region’s ambulance trust is warning that the need to cut costs will affect performance and this, critics fear, will put patients at risk.

The East of England Ambulance Service (EEAS) is meeting tough Government-set Call Connect targets, which require it to reach 75 per cent of life-threatening incidents within eight minutes of a 999 call being connected.

But the trust ran into financial problems hiring extra staff to meet the targets and must now make cost savings to break even – despite a cash boost of £3.3 million from the region’s primary care trusts.

Chris Preston, EEAS’s finance director, said at a board meeting last week that there are “risks associated with delivering the cost savings needed to balance the financial position” and that “operational performance may be impacted by the reduction in costs”.

NHS trusts have a statutory duty to break even.

John Toomey, UNISON’s regional organiser, said that staff are already stretched to the limit by Government targets. He said budget cuts would “have an impact on patient care” and “ability to respond as required”.

Mr Toomey added: “We’ve got ambulance crews who are run ragged. Staff are worn down. They are having to go to rapid deployment positions all the time. Everybody wants to get to calls on time, but you can only run people so hard for so long.

“The criminals in all of this are the politicians setting targets without understanding the impact of that and without understanding the need to provide funding.”

An EEAS spokesman said the trust has met the targets for each month since August, but there were an extra 3,140 emergency responses this October compared with the previous October.

He added: “This places a huge demand on our resources and, if replicated over the whole winter and combined with poor weather and driving conditions, would put our achievement of the target at risk. We are, however, committed to achieving financial balance and meeting our response performance targets between now and the end of the financial year in March.”

The spokesman said crews are “pulling out all the stops” to meet the targets and “deserve the complete respect and cooperation of the public”.

Cllr Geoff Heathcock, Liberal Democrat spokesman for health on Cambridgeshire County Council, said: “We are talking about people’s lives being put on the line, particularly in a predominantly rural county with a road network that is grim in many places.

“With new targets should come proper funding, but the ambulance service has never been a part of the NHS that has received the level of support it should have from the Government.”

■ CUTBACKS . . . future funding cuts to the ambulance service could put lives at risk, the East of England Ambulance Trust warns.

Beware of lottery con, warn police

POLICE are warning people to be aware of bogus Spanish lottery scams that claim the recipient has won a substantial amount of money.

Since the beginning of the year police in Cambridgeshire and Suffolk have had about 100 reports from residents who have received letters stating they have won a portion of an international lottery they have not entered. The letters include a processing form that requests personal details including bank account number, sort code and the address. These details could then be used to gain access to people’s accounts.

As well as the form, recipients are given a phone number to call. Anyone who does so will be asked to send money in order to release his or her winnings. It is likely this will be thousands of pounds.

The conmen behind the scam contact possible victims by post, phone and email, and often target the elderly and vulnerable.

Detective Inspector Caroline Millar, of the Force Intelligence Bureau, said: “We urge people to be on their guard for letters and scams such as these.

“However official a letter may appear, do not get tempted to pass on your details or part with any of your money.”

If you believe you are a victim of a fraud, contact police on (01473) 613500.

If you have received a similar bogus communication, or something you suspect to be a scam, contact Consumer Direct on 08454 040506 or visit www. consumer direct.gov.uk

Purse pinched

The theft happened at the Co-op in Jubilee Walk between 11.30am and 12.05pm on Wednesday, November 26.

Grand opening for booming business

A PROPERTY company, which has defied the slump in the market and moved into new premises, received a visit from its local MP.

Richard Spring visited CXG Property Services in Haverhill, which was formed three years ago by brothers Daniel and Robin Pilley. The business specialises in sourcing clients who wish to develop a property portfolio, as well as providing a procurement, letting, maintenance and financial management service.

Robin said: "Haverhill represents an excellent investment opportunity for buy-to-let investors. With the rapid growth of the business we moved into our own premises earlier this year and despite all the current problems in the financial and property markets, cautious development continues to provide good opportunities for both investor clients and clients in distressed situations with their mortgage providers."

Mr Spring said he supported small businesses in his constituency and was pleased to officially open the new premises in the Grade II-listed building at the top of the High Street. He met the directors and staff to discuss some of the issues facing new and growing businesses in the town.

Friendly boost for scheme

EFFORTS to help lonely pensioners have received a cash boost from a local estate agent.

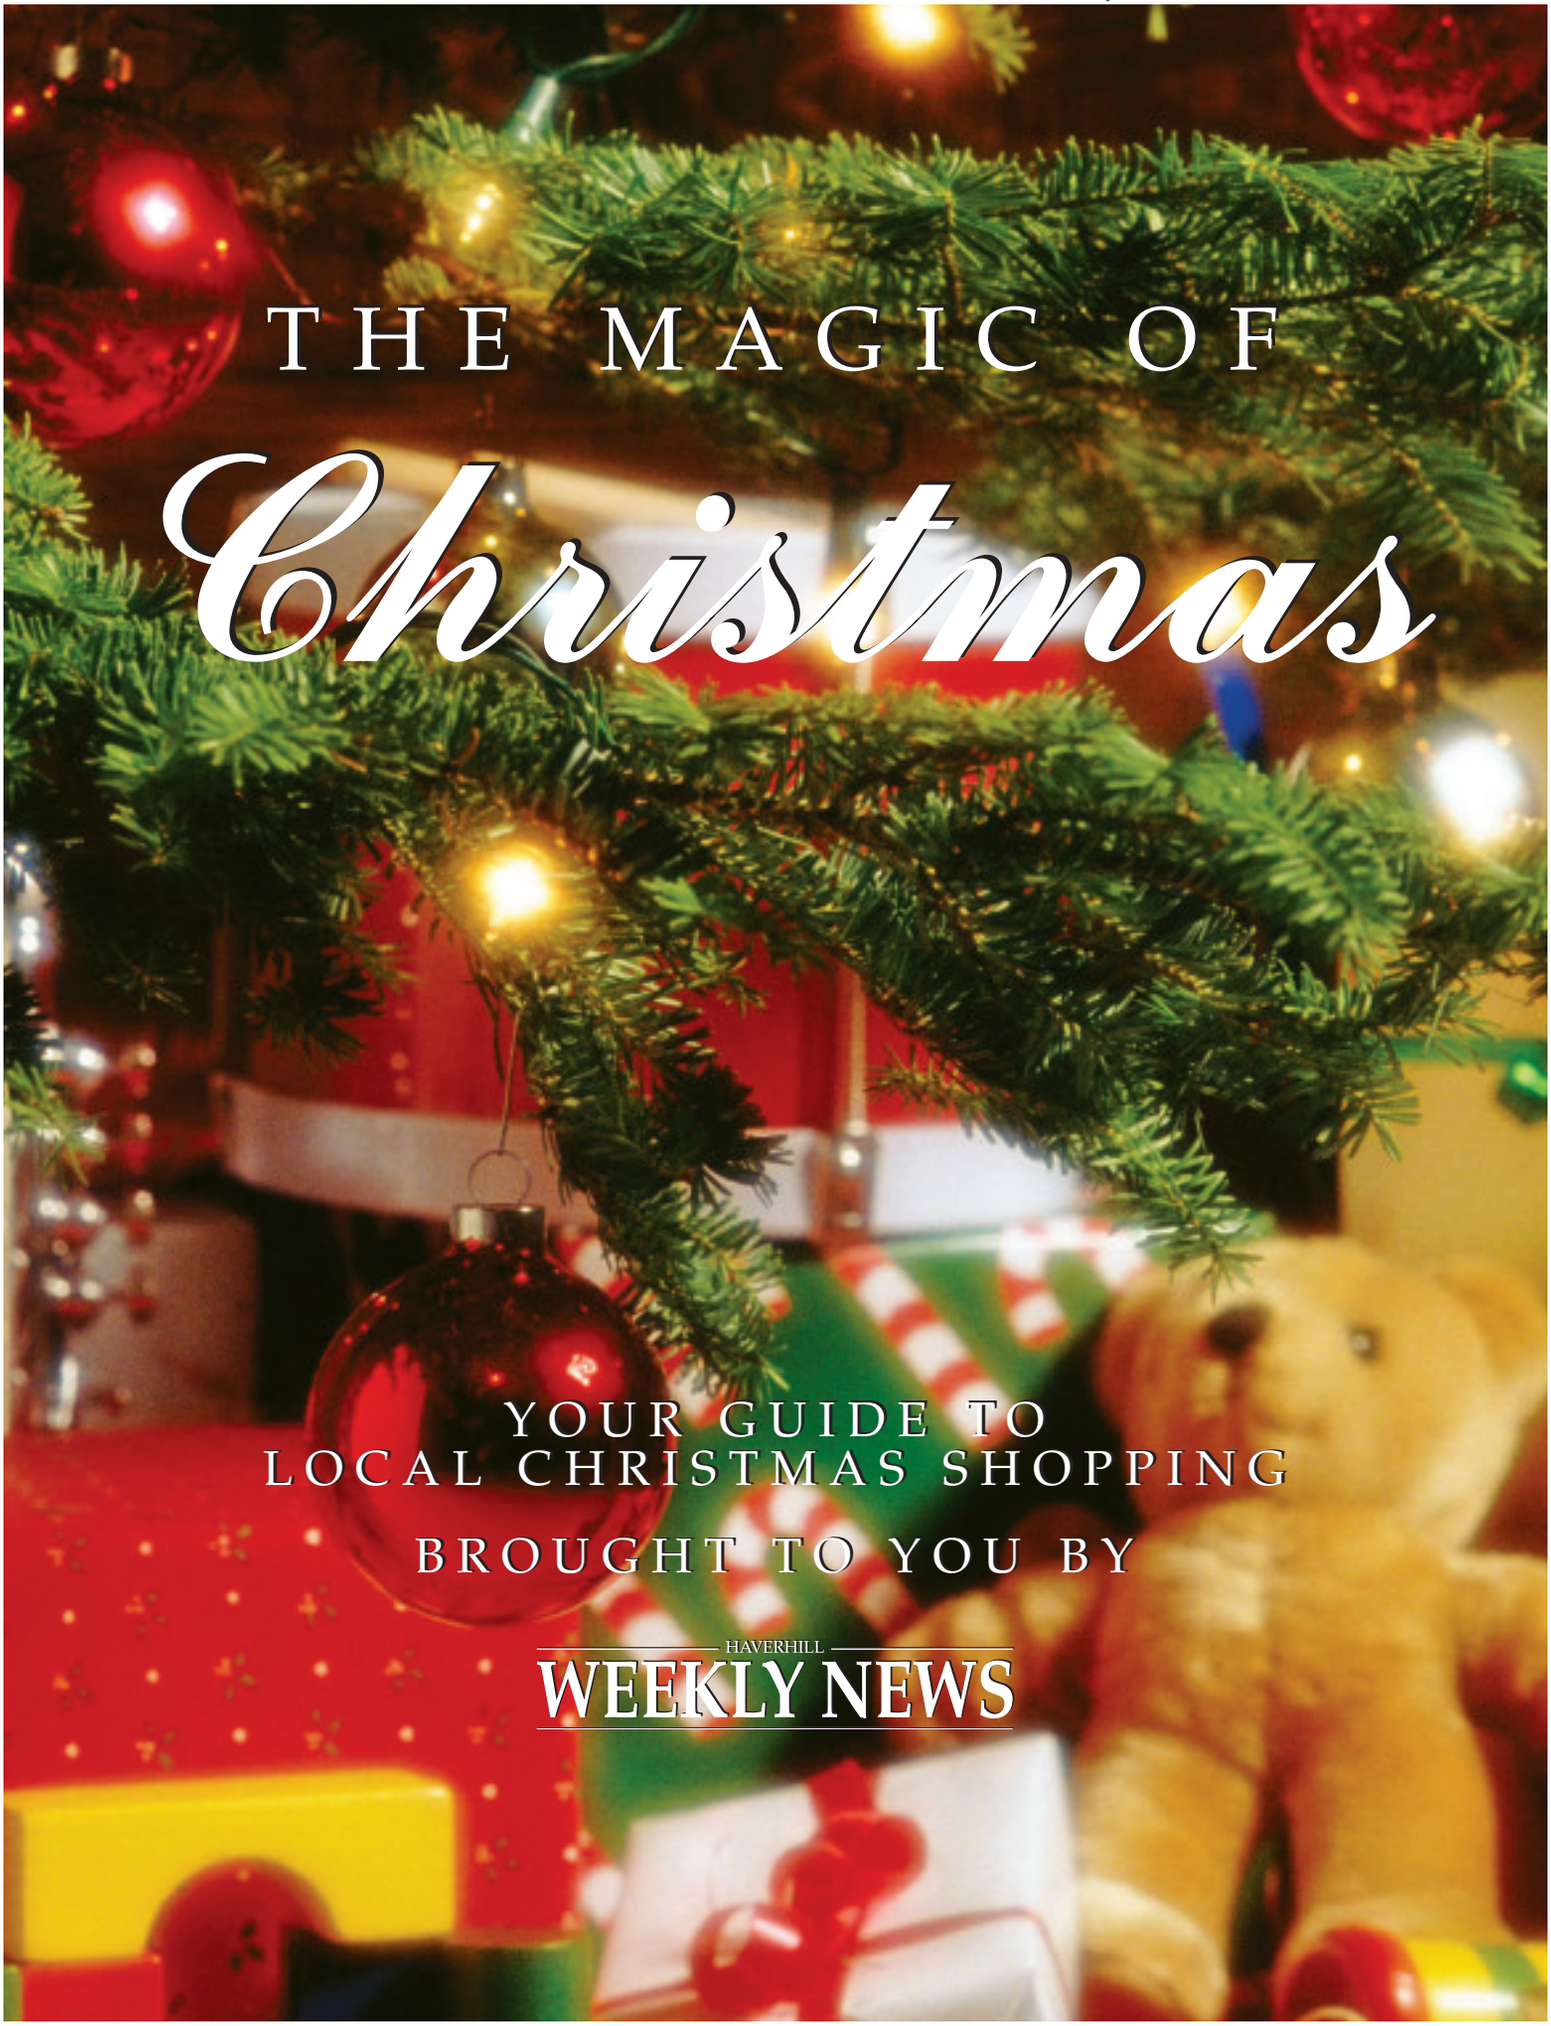

A scheme by Haverhill Volunteer Centre has been handed a £500 donation from Cheffins.

The aim is to more than double the size of the existing Elderly Befriending scheme. Currently eight volunteers are working with 12 clients. This will be expanded to 30 volunteers helping upwards of 30 elderly people.

Sam Cooke, of Cheffins, said: "This is an important scheme for Haverhill and we are delighted to provide this support. We make donations to a number of other charities through our community fund."

Elaine Hewes, of Haverhill Volunteer Centre, said: "We offer support, information and advice regarding volunteering to voluntary and community groups, we recruit, support and train volunteers. A number of key projects in and around Haverhill are co-ordinated by Haverhill Volunteer Centre. This donation will enable us to increase the help we can offer through the befriending scheme."

A Christmas tree

A CHRISTMAS tree is so much more than a festive decoration for the home – it's a sight that forever stays in our memories.

Never mind the bulging stocking or that longed for bike or doll, for most people (60 per cent) the decorated tree is the clearest and lasting memory of celebrations during their childhood, according to a recent survey by mydeco.com.

It also found although 40 per cent of us loyally deck our tree in cherished decorations that have been handed down over the generations, we also spend up to £20 a year on new baubles.

And, it seems, while purple or upside down trees may come and go dressing a tree in a traditional style – complete with tinsel and a star on top – is still by far the most popular choice.

But if that's not your taste there are many looks on offer this year, so whatever your taste you'll find something to ring your bell.

"The great thing about decorating a tree is that it's an entirely personal choice," says TV presenter and interior designer Linda Barker.

"Trees are a way of celebrating family history, as well as being a beautiful, traditional focal point. So there's no wrong or right way to dress them. And that fairy made from a toilet roll is just as important as the most expensive bauble.

■ SO MUCH THINGS TO SAY . . . bear in mind that simple is always effective when it comes to Christmas decorations.

Christmas Wishes

offers a wonderful memory

"The only thing to avoid is minimalism - this is a time for maxing out and especially in these gloomy times having a glamorous tree that truly cheers."

Linda has identified four key looks for tree style this season.

■ HOMESPUN & FOLK: If you're a fan of a homespun, simple Christmas redolent of all things traditional, this look is for you.

Dress it with decorations that look lovingly crafted – either by children or designers. Ideally, keep to a two-colour theme so that the tree looks charming rather than chaotic. Red and green's a perennial classic but red and white has a modern, Scandinavian feel.

■ MYSTICAL AND MOODY: This look oozes luxury and sophistication, and takes its inspiration from the 1920s Art Deco period. It features black enlivened by the sparkle of silver and gold, and an essential dash of fashionable purple.

■ ALL THAT GLITTERS: Make your tree look as though you've struck gold even in these tricky financial times.

Metallics – gold, bronze, brass – are all the rage, and their glowing reflections will bring warmth and glamour to any room.

■ WHITE & MAGICAL: This enchanting, magical look can be pure as the driven snow, or given a funky, contemporary twist with vibrant coloured decorations.

ANTHEA'S DECORATION TIPS

TV presenter Anthea Turner, author of The Perfect Christmas, also knows a thing or two about creating a magical tree.

Follow Anthea's golden rules to ensure success:

■ Decorate the container: "A simple way is to wrap the container in ridged card and tie it with a large paper ribbon bow," she says.

■ Add lights first, and work from the base, then weave garlands, ribbons or bead strings in and out of the branches.

■ Start from the top when placing decorations and position large ones at the ends of branches, with smaller decorations filling the spaces in the middle of branches.

■ COOL . . . decorations vary according to taste and circumstance.

■ ALL PRESENT . . . and correct – as long as you keep the receipt!

Gifts: Well worth

If you are checking out the local shops, here's a few tips on getting the best deals

REMEMBER that woolly jumper your aunty bought you for Christmas last year? The stripy, itchy, uncomfortable number that you threw back in the box and pretended to be grateful for?

Unless it was particularly hideous, or particularly out of character for her to buy it, the chances are that no, you don't remember it at all. In fact, the odds are that you might not remember much about the presents you got at Christmas from anyone last year. Christmas might be a time of goodwill, but it's increasingly becoming a time of good riddance.

Presents we don't need and don't want are increasingly taking precedence in our stockings, as the average Brit wastes £50 on unwanted gifts a year, totalling a massive £2.3 billion in unwanted gifts over the Christmas season, according to one recent survey.

As nearly 40 per cent of them gather dust in cupboards and a third are sold on the internet after the Christmas holiday has passed, it's no surprise that one in four of us can't remember what anyone bought for us last year. The survey, by Dove, also found that, more worryingly, half of us can't recall what our partners gave us.

You could ask everyone what it is specifically that they'd like this year, but if you haven't the time or inclination, we've included a handy guide to help you think of alternative gifts for the special people in your life, plus tips on how to avoid high street and online shopping pitfalls. Happy hunting!

THEY CAN ALWAYS TAKE IT BACK...

If you're braving the high streets and online marketplaces, good luck to you. As long as you keep these few tips from Which? legal service in mind, your friends and family need not be disappointed – as returning items could be easier than it was shopping for them.

1. Keep the receipt – it's always best to have the receipt, but you can still try to return goods using any proof of purchase, including a bank statement or credit card bill.

2. Don't worry about binning the box – if products are faulty or not fit for the purpose, they can be returned regardless of whether they are in the box they came in or not.

working out first

■ JUST WHAT YOU WANTED . . . great – but if not there's still ways to turn the disappointment around.

3. Check the returns policy – especially if buying early. When buying on the high street, you have no right to return something just because you, or they, don't like it. But many shops will refund, exchange or give credit notes as a gesture of goodwill.

4. Use the plastic if you're spending over £100 – if an item costs between £100 – £30,000 it's best to put it on your credit card.

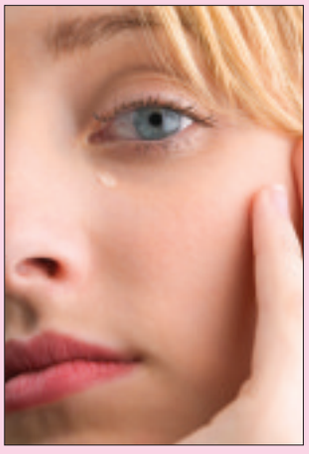

That way, if a retailer refuses to remedy problem goods, the card company has the same responsibility as the retailer – great if the retailer goes bust or denies responsibility for goods.

5. Know your online rights – there is a cooling-off period starting the minute you place the order and ending seven working days after you receive the goods, during which time you are free to cancel. This also applies to mail order.

EVEN if you're looking forward to the invasion of friends and family at Christmas, you're lucky if their imminent arrival doesn't trigger a panic pang of: "Where am I going to put everyone and all the extra stuff they'll bring with them?".

The reality is that few people can claim to have enough space in their home, and the pressures on it just grow as our lives move on – whether it's a growing family, entertaining, or the need for a home office.

But during the holiday season the walls can really start closing in, as every surface seems covered by decorations, and there are all those extra gifts, and possibly toys, to accommodate.

Julie Savill, former editor of Good Homes magazine, recommends getting sorted out now: "A good tidy up is the starting point and it's quite eye-opening just how much roomier a place can seem if the floor and furniture are clear of clutter.

"Of course clutter can be the result of a lack of storage, leaving no permanent home for belongings, and this should be the next step.

Creating a place for everything is the only way you'll ever persuade the family to put things in their place."

While TV's House Doctor, Ann Maurice agrees that having a room-by-room de-cluttering session is essential; she also believes many people make one fundamental mistake at this time of year.

"It's so common for people to leave their everyday treasures and ornaments on mantels and shelves and then pile seasonal decorations on top.

"That's inevitably going to make the whole effect messy and cluttered. Before I start decorating I get out a couple of storage boxes and always have a clean sweep of the house. I first put away all the everyday things like picture frames or ornaments, which leaves plenty of room to display seasonal decorations to great effect."

Julie's gathered some top tips for her book, Good Homes 101 Ways To Make More Space, that could leave you feeling as if your house has expanded and make Christmas much more comfortable.

JULIE'S TIPS

■ Choose dual-purpose furniture like sofa beds or trunks that double as coffee tables.

■ A dress rail isn't just for Christmas but makes itself useful when the visitors have gone home. It's far less bulky than a traditional wooden wardrobe.

■ A neat box-pleated balance makes a bed look tidy and with the addition of a few pockets stitched on, can give great hidey-holes for shoes, books, newspapers.

■ "Don't clutter up a room with a large table, instead have a large sheet of MDF or plywood which can be laid over the top of a compact table to give you a bigger surface. Simply cover with a pretty cloth to disguise it.

■ Fit shelves into an alcove under the stairs, and paint them the same colour as the wall so they disappear into the background.

■ A bamboo ladder used as a towel rail provides masses of space for towels, or can be used for extra hanging space in a spare room.

■ Boxing in the area under a bay window can provide bags of space (think caravans and how much stuff gets stowed away under the seats) as long as you build in lift-up lids. Or build a shaped seat with shelving area underneath for books and games.

■ BON APPETIT . . . it helps to be able to eat without worrying about clutter.

Winter wonders from arts group

SOME fine works of art that could make an ideal Christmas present are on show at Haverhill Art Group's winter exhibition, which has just opened at Haverhill Arts Centre. All the works are by local artists who work in various media – from watercolour to pastels and mixed media to oils. Most of the pictures are for sale at reasonable prices, so anyone stuck for that special Christmas gift can pop along and see what is on offer. The group also holds regular monthly meetings at the arts centre. Chairman Bill Hubbuck said: "We are a small informal bunch of like-minded people who like painting. The meetings are held every second Wednesday of the month from 7.30pm. "We have demonstrations, workshops and the occasional lectures, and we are always pleased to meet new members." The exhibition has been set up in the bistro and runs until Monday, January 5.

New guide for waste disposal

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

ADVICE on what counts as hazardous waste and how it can be disposed of is explained in a leaflet issued by Suffolk County Council.

Around five million tonnes of hazardous waste is produced in England and Wales each year, and to help residents recognise their hazardous waste, the council has put together an advice and guidance leaflet, including information on how to make more eco-friendly buying decisions.

Cllr Eddy Alcock, portfolio holder for environment and waste management, said: "Many people don't realise, when they have a clear out at home, the number of products they have in their house or garden shed that are hazardous or that require careful disposal.

"It can't simply be sent to landfill. We all need to dispose of our waste responsibly to avoid harm to human health and the environment. I welcome this new leaflet, giving people the information they need, so that hazardous waste doesn't end up in general landfill, or in watercourses."

Certain types of household hazardous waste can be taken to the county council's household waste recycling centres for safe disposal. These include used motor oil, household and vehicle batteries, fluorescent tubes and low energy lightbulbs, televisions and computers and fire extinguishers (except Halon ones).

For disposal of all other hazardous household products, people are advised to contact their district or borough council to arrange collection.

The new leaflet is available to download from www.suffolkrecycling.org.uk, or pick one up at the local recycling centre.

Haverhill's recycling centre can be found at Coupals Close, off Chalkstone Way.

Big events ahead for Lisa

LINTON'S Chilford Hall Vineyard and Conference Centre has appointed Lisa Lloyd-Evans as its new events co-ordinator.

Lisa, 31, hails from a strong background in sales and marketing, previously working for a high street bank, and more recently as a contract negotiator for a sports marketing agency. Lisa's new role will involve co-ordinating events, as well as developing the business to build on an existing portfolio of clients.

Lisa will be co-ordinating corporate events, wine events, private parties and regional and national events including the Chilford Hall Christmas and New Year parties, Tastes of Anglia and quilt, glass and craft fairs.

Lisa said: "I am really excited to be working with the Chilford team and look forward to expanding our client base and developing new relationships with local and national businesses."

Vehicles collide

POLICE are appealing for witnesses to a four-vehicle collision, which happened at Clare last Thursday night.

No-one was injured in the collision, which happened in Church Street at 7.12pm and involved a green BMW car, a silver Volvo estate, a purple Ford Ka and a silver Renault Clio.

Anyone with information should contact Deborah Carrol-Beer at Horringer Police on (01473) 613500.

HIV numbers rise sevenfold

HIV rates in the East of England have increased sevenfold in the past 10 years, according to new figures.

The Health Protection Agency says the region has seen a 573 per cent rise in the number of people being treated for the disease since 1998.

The increase is the highest in the country.

The figures show that 520 people in the region were newly diagnosed last year. That brings the overall number of individuals being treated for the disease up to 3,693, compared to 549 in 1998.

It is not known how many of them live in Cambridgeshire.

Bosses at NHS East of England said the rise was down to better screening and longer life expectancy.

Force to extend use of stun guns

BY Chris Havergal

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

MORE police officers in Cambridgeshire are to be armed with electronic stun guns.

The force has welcomed plans announced by Home Secretary Jacqui Smith to widen the use of Tasers, which can incapacitate suspects with a shock of up to 50,000 volts.

Up to 10,000 of the weapons will be ordered for specially-trained officers across the country, the Government said. It has put aside £8 million for the scheme.

Mark Hopkins, assistant chief constable of Cambridgeshire police, gave the proposals the thumbs-up.

He said: "Since the introduction of the Taser in Cambridgeshire it has proven to be an effective tool in dealing with potentially violent situations safely and rapidly.

"I am positive about its use and we will be considering opportunities open to the constabulary."

Critics, who have warned the weapons are "potentially lethal", are calling for a review of the decision.

And the Metropolitan Police said it would not take part in the scheme, over fears that Tasers "cause fear and damage public confidence".

Figures revealed by the Weekly News in March showed that Tasers had been used 23 times in Cambridgeshire since they were introduced in 2005.

A force spokesman said the weapon, which is effective from a distance of 10 metres, had been fired three times.

Officers "red-dotted" targets 19 times in that period and they had drawn the weapon once as a warning to a suspect.

Announcing the proposals last week, Mrs Smith said she wanted to give police officers the tools to confront dangerous people.

She said: "I am proud that we have one of the few police services around the world that do not regularly carry firearms and I want to keep it that way.

"But every day the police put themselves in danger to protect us, the public. They deserve our support, so I want to give the police the tools they tell me they need to confront dangerous people."

The move was welcomed by the Association of Chief Police Officers, which said Tasers meant other weapons did not have to be used so often.

Home Office trials found the threat of being Tasered was often enough to stop a violent incident.

New members lend voice to top Chord

■ IN TUNE . . . members of the Cambridge Chord Company. CP.

AN AWARD-WINNING choir has swelled its ranks after hosting a successful 'come and sing' course.

Cambridge Chord Company was formed almost two decades ago and is regarded as Europe's top close harmony male singing group, scooping six gold medals in major competitions and winning the title Choir of the World in 2004. It has members from all walks of life, ranging from an arch deacon to a zoologist, and possibly a US spy. Although the bulk of them come from Cambridge, Haverhill and the surrounding areas, some have travelled from as far away as Crawley, near Gatwick airport, to take part.

When previous musical director Paul Davies left the group after 17 years, new director Bob Croft decided it was a good time to inject some new blood into its ranks and in September the group started an eight-week 'come and sing' course to let new singers try out for the group. More than 20 hopefuls turned up for the event at Great Abington and 15 completed the course, and it is hoped they will join as members.

Mr Croft said: "They were all able to sing to quite a high standard and able to pick up the precise techniques of our close harmony singing very well. To keep 15 people is a very good retention rate and we are very proud of them."

The choir can next be seen in concert at Emmanuel United Reform Church, in Trumpington Street, Cambridge, on Saturday, December 13 at 7.30pm, along with other groups. Tickets are £11, available from (01954) 230750 or (01440) 708823.

Thom Box, from Haverhill, said: "We take our music and presentation very seriously but we also have terrific fun on stage and off."

The choir meets on Thursday evenings at 8pm in Great Abington Hall. To find out more go to www.cambridgechordco.org.uk

Santa to drop in

FATHER Christmas will be dropping in to the Kedington Primary School Christmas Fair on Saturday, December 13.

The event will be held from 2-4pm with a craft area, extreme make-over area, cakes, a jam jar stall, mince pies and mulled wine, guess the weight of the cake, a bottle stall and a raffle.

Christmas? Oh yes it is and panto's here!

By Nik Shelton

ONE of the major highlights of the festive theatre calendar gets under way this week when Cambridge Arts Theatre's annual pantomime takes to the stage.
Recognised as one of the best traditional pantos in the region, the show has been staged almost every year since the theatre opened in 1936.
For several years it has been produced by the director and choreographer team of Brad Fitt and Scott Ritchie, who last year stepped onto the stage themselves to play the Ugly Sisters in Cinderella.
This year's show, Jack and the Beanstalk, reunites the team who have made the panto a success in recent years, including former Hollyoaks star Julie Buckfield as Jack and kids favourite Matt Crosby as his comic sidekick brother, Silly Billy.
Brad Fitt will be donning wig and greasepaint once more to play Dame Trott.

■ PANTO TIME . . . Julie Buckfield returns to the Arts Centre to play the lead in Jack and the Beanstalk. Joining her will be director Brad Fitt, left, as Dame Trott, and Matt Crosby as Silly Billy. CP.

"Me and Brad have done eight years here together and five of those years have been with Julie," says Scott.
"But we never like to feel like, 'Oh it's panto and we know exactly what we're doing so we can just rock up and do it'. We still take it very seriously and it's hard work. We've also brought in new blood as well, we've got new dancers and new principles and it keeps us on our toes.
"This is our in-house production and we're really lucky to have that here because a lot of theatres have pantos that are brought in and they aren't even rehearsed in the theatre. So people here are quite protective of it and very proud of it. It's very much a family feel and there aren't very many of those that exist any more in the country."
The full cast of eight principles, six chorus members and two teams of 10 panto babes will perform 82 shows over six weeks for an estimated combined audience of 35,000 people.
"For me Christmas isn't Christmas without going to see a panto," says Julie.
"Christmas starts for me when I get my script. I got it about a month ago and I was so excited because I knew Christmas was coming."
This year's show starts tomorrow and runs until January 18. Tickets are £10-£27.50. To book call (01223) 503333 or visit the website at www.cambridgeartstheatre.com

HAVERHILL WEEKLY NEWS
MOTORING

■ THE NEW RENAULT MÉGANE . . . 37 out of 37 on EuroNCAP tests.

Mégane: Top safety marks at EuroNCAP

WITH a score of 37 points out of 37 in its EuroNCAP crash tests, Renault's New Mégane has achieved the joint highest-ever score, matching that of the Qashqai, from sister company Nissan, last year.

The news comes at the same time as reports that the Vauxhall Insignia has achieved 35 points out of 37, winning it a EuroNCAP rating of the maximum five stars for adult occupant protection.

The recently awarded European Car of the Year was also given four stars for child protection and two for pedestrian protection, the best scores achieved in its class so far.

Meanwhile, the new Mégane becomes the 11th Renault model to earn the top five-star rating.

Both cars have been designed from the outset to incorporate class leading safety systems including active systems such as ESP and passive set-ups, which make extensive use of airbags, seatbelt pre-tensioners and crumple-zones. For example, all New Mégane's will feature ESP with anti-skid regulation and understeer control as standard.

Five-door Mazda3 hatchback due

MAZDA unveiled the new five-door Mazda3 at the Bologna Motor Show this week.

The second-generation hatchback follows on from the 3 saloon, shown at the Los Angeles Motor Show, which is has just ended.

The five-door Mazda3 keeps the same design cues as found on the 3 saloon and is a continuation of the current Mazda design language first seen on the Mazda6, launched earlier this year.

The hatchback has been designed with the environment in mind with weight kept as low as possible and class-leading aerodynamics helping the engines return the highest fuel economy ratings possible.

The catalysts used in the petrol engined 3s will also be constructed using nano-technology, keeping the use of platinum to a minimum.

The engines available have been picked with a European market in mind as Mazda aims to continue the success of the current Mazda3 range.

Those engines will include 1.6 and 2.0 litre petrol variants and 1.6 and 2.2-litre turbo diesels.

The 2.2 diesel comes from the Mazda6 and is intended to be the high performance variant, at least for now as the current Mazda3 MPS is highly regarded and it would be a fair assessment to assume that the Japanese manufacturer will produce a second-generation version.

Further details will be released at launch this week.

■ STR.ONG DESIGN . . . five-door Mazda3 sure to appeal to those who like an edge to their motoring.

Paul anniversary event boosts future of club

PAUL Wilby, the new Haverhill Golf Club professional and his wife, Karen, celebrated their third wedding anniversary by hosting a tournament at the club last Thursday.

The event was to raise money to finance a new junior golf academy, which is already being phased into the club for the first time.

Wilby, who helped run a very successful junior academy at his previous club, Fynn Valley, is full of enthusiasm for the Haverhill venture and said: "This structured level of coaching is vital to the success of the junior section and the future of the club.

"The boys and girls will now have consistent coaching all year round from myself and my assistant professional, Ollie Rush.

"Our aim is to give all junior golfers new education, whatever their level of skills.

"This will help them develop into better golfers, who enjoy the game, while learning life skills such as dedication, discipline and conversational skills, needed to mix in with the other members of the club, who will be only to pleased to help.

"We will cover many aspects of golf over the sessions, and have already started the work."

To be eligible for the academy coaching, players have to be a junior member of Haverhill GC, but if they are not, Rush is running a non-members' class every Sunday, either 10-11am or 11am-noon. Newcomers welcome, but pre-booking is advised on 01440 712628. The cost of each session is £4 and clubs are provided free of charge.

Players who show a good attitude to golf and are prepared to learn can inquire about membership and, if accepted, can then join in the junior academy sessions for £1 per class.

For more details on academy times, please contact the golf club.

This year's winners of the Junior Fundraiser event were from Waldringfield with 85 points. They were Sean Payne, Warren Goddard, Dick Thomas and Robbie Brame.

Second place went to Mike Duley, Graham Cook, Paul Collins and Andy Franklin on 84 and third with 83 were Debbie Howlett, Julie Iveson, Neil Fenn and Tom Day.

The format was a stableford with the best two from four scores to count on each hole. Twenty teams of four competed.

FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

■ LINE-UP . . . Members of the Haverhill Rovers squad, who had their shooting boots on against Littleport. CP.

Smart Alex soon among the goals

Haverhill Rovers U11 24
Littleport Town U11 0

CAMBRIDGE & DIST COLTS LEAGUE, DIV 11C

ROVERS got off to a quick start, with Alex Carter firing home from six yards.

The Rovers kept up the pressure, with Carter notching three more goals.

Will Bailey, Cam Kidd and Jack Trowbridge all netted twice and Rhys Shulver rounded off the first-half scoring.

Although the second half saw Rovers reshuffle their side, they added further goals through Bailey (5) and Trowbridge (3).

Littleport defended valiantly, but Rovers remaining goals were shared between Paul Jenkinson, Kidd, Tom Middle, Ben Eames and Josh Ruthven.

■ Rovers ran out 2-1 winners when they were invited to play a friendly against the Cambs & District League representative team at Linton. Their goals came from Middle and Trowbridge.

Aztecs Juniors U10A 8
NST Strikers U10B 0

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10B

The visitors' goalkeeper was on top form in the first period, but Toby Goodship broke the deadlock midway through the half. Tyler Thurgood added a second, followed by a goal from Luke Wood.

Aztecs dominated from the start of the second period and extended their lead when Thurgood added his second.

Man-of-the-match Callum Hayes then finished superbly, before Thurgood completed his hat-trick.

William Savill burst through to power home the seventh and Sam Howard netted the final goal.

Spartak 78 U10 A 0
Grampian Gunners U10 A 5

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10A

THREE well-worked goals from Halls, Westley and Thompson gave Gunners a 3-0 lead at the break.

The second half started saw Halls and Thompson take their chances to round off a solid team performance.

Somersham Town U15 5
Grampian Gunners U15 0

CAMBRIDGE & DIST COLTS LEAGUE, DIV 15A

GRAMPIAN travelled to face last season's champions and came back with their tail firmly between their legs.

Four down at the break due to some good shooting and poor defending left Gunners' chances of getting anything out of the game in tatters.

The second half was better as Jackson, Halls and Youngs all went close, but one more goal for the home side completed the scoring.

Miss lands Delaware in spot of bother

MATTHEW Morrison's missed penalty proved extremely costly as Delaware were outfought in Cornard, to lose their 100 per cent record in the league.

Cornard took the lead on 15 minutes, as Chris Cox was adjudged to have handled in the area and Blades converted the spot kick.

Mark Bailey equalised before half time, with a well-struck shot into the far bottom corner of the net.

Delaware were unable to put themselves ahead though, as Morrison hit his penalty straight at the home goalkeeper after Sean McCormack was pushed on the edge of the area.

In the second period, Blades pushed on, scoring their second and third goals to secure their victory, before Bailey grabbed his sixth goal of the season five minutes from time.

YOUTH FOOTBALL ROUND-UP – Page 51

RUGBY UNION

■ COMING THROUGH . . . Haverhill's two-try hero George Foley ploughs through the Bury defence and the mud. CP.

By George, Foley is the try hero for Haverhill

HAVERHILL U14 had the sweet taste of a 17-10 victory over their Bury counterparts in an intense battle, played out in muddy conditions.

The match was almost entirely dominated by forward play, with the backs only managing to shine intermittently – once being when George Foley's try gave Haverhill victory.

Bury opened the scoring on 10 minutes after a turnover on the halfway line.

Ollie Edwards replied for Haverhill with a pushover try five minutes later to make the score 5-5.

Countless Haverhill forward runs were extinguished by excellent tackles by the Bury defence.

Throughout the first half, both sets of players deserved credit for never letting the difficult conditions get the better of them.

Within two minutes of the re-start, Foley was held up as he was about to score. However, this was followed by five minutes of intense pressure all along the Bury five-metre line, which included a line-out and numerous scrums before Foley did finally score. Toby Pink narrowly missed the difficult conversion, where he knew the extra points could mean victory.

Bury immediately replied with pressure of their own, which Haverhill soaked up, before succumbing to a kick over the backs as Bury regained possession and released the ball to the backs to score.

The game was finely balanced at 10-10 when, with five minutes to go, Foley broke through to run in a try from 20 metres, which Pink converted.

The final minutes saw Haverhill hold off Bury one final time to take a victory that had the coaches jumping for joy.

FOOTBALL: LATEST NEWS FROM HAMLET CROFT

Betts reign off to losing start

■ CLOSE CALL . . . Jamie Challis, who saw his early effort cleared off the line for Haverhill Rovers.

Harwich & Parkeston 3
Haverhill Rovers 2

RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

HAVERHILL Rovers' new boss Peter Betts began his time in charge with a narrow defeat at Harwich on Saturday.

Haverhill made a bright start, with Harry Halls heading inches wide from a Jamie Challis free kick early on, but they went behind on 20 minutes with a headed goal from a corner.

Challis then had an effort cleared off the line before Harwich took a 2-0 lead as the ball was cut back from the byeline for a near-post finish.

Rovers pulled themselves back into the game six minutes into the second half when Paul Hunt's ball forward found substitute Shaun Banham, who curled a first-time effort between the goalkeeper and his near post. Harwich hit back five minutes later when a cross from the right found the striker unmarked and his downward header put them 3-1 up.

Martin Westcott headed in from Ryan Kent's corner 10 minutes from time to bring it back to 3-2, and Haverhill almost snatched a point when substitute Matt Crawley's effort went agonisingly wide.

■ Haverhill's scheduled Ridgeons League, Premier Division match at fellow Suffolk side Mildenhall Town on Tuesday evening was postponed because the pitch was waterlogged.

■ Rovers are due to return to league action on Saturday with a tough assignment, away to high-flyers Wroxham.
